projects

The Agricultural Museum of Iceland Since i graduated I've been slowly working on website for The Agricultural Museum of Iceland using React and designed with Adobe XD. The website is twofold, firstly it has a easy-to-use dashboard for the admin to create articles so that they'll not need any outside help to publish new articles. Secondly, it's the front of the website that grabs those articles from the MangoDB database. The back-end of the website is written in ExpressJS with authentication. Front-end is written in React + Redux and SCSS. The website will be lunched soon.

Parket og Gólf Assisted with the design and styling of Parket og Gólf website that will be lunched soon.
